HEARING PRODUCES BITTER BATTLE ON ROUTE!

'Suspended' Rookie Cop May Battle Move For Ouster

Daly City Police Chief Roland Petrocchi at press time today said he would take legal steps to prefer charges for the dismissal of rookie patrolman Jeffery R. Wetmore, 25, who was involved in an awkward, off-duty incident Friday night outside the Pacific Heights residence of a young lady he had been dating.

Petrocchi ordered Wetmore's suspension Saturday about 1:30 a.m. after the chief was informed by San Francisco police that Wetmore allegedly threatened Phillip S. Peter, 27, a San Francisco attorney who went to the residence of Miss Jania Hutchins, 25, daughter of socially prominent Col. and Mrs. Robert B. Hutchins, 3501 Clay street.

Peter, who said he would not file a felony complaint against Wetmore and "wanted the incident forgotten," told SF police Wetmore halted him outside the residence, asked if Peter were going to visit Miss Hutchins, then jammed his police revolver into the attorney's ribs, admonishing Peter to stay away from the young socialite.

Petrocchi said Wetmore admitted to him that he was involved in the incident, but he denies use of his pistol in the manner alleged by Peter. Wetmore's empty pistol holder was found in his car outside the home by SF officers.

The police chief said that if Peter's accusations were correct, Wetmore "should be dismissed."

Wetmore, who intends to seek a commission in the military service soon, told Petrocchi he would fight the dismissal because he challenge's Peter's statements and that any blot on his civilian record would hinder his military service opportunities. Wetmore, it was learned, has hired an attorney to represent him.

Petrocchi described Wetmore as a "fair officer," but noted the patrolman was suspended one day recently for failure to attend a court hearing in a case he helped to report. The chief also said Wetmore had failed to move into Daly City before January 16 this year—the deadline he was warned about under city regulations requiring local residency of municipal employees within a year after they are hired here.

Wetmore, who lives at 306 Laurel street, San Francisco, met Miss Hutchins when both were students at City College of San Francisco. He worked for Daly City as a police dispatcher clerk starting in November of 1957 and became a permanent police officer on September 28 last year.

ROBERT SNYDER, 32, was cleared of being involved in the death of his sister-in-law, Evelyn "Cathy" Snyder, in a Westlake apartment last week, when an autopsy showed the woman died from the effects of barbituates and alcohol. Snyder, however, was arrested on two counts of forgery and he is to appear in Superior Court. Huddled around Snyder, left to right, are Sergeant Jack Walsh, Captain Roy Beecher and Police Chief Roland Petrocchi.

JEFF SCHOOL EXPANSION PROJECT SET

Jefferson Elementary District administration was authorized to advertise for bids for the Jefferson School two classroom addition Monday night. They will open bids on February 15 at 2 p.m.

Plans are ready to go to Sacramento for state approval of the Colma K-6 teacher's workroom. Trustee Wayne Douglas made the motion that if the state should authorize this project as a school aid project the local administration is authorized to advertise and go to bid on it.

The Washington K-6 School grading contract is now being perused at Sacramento and the administration here received approval to go to bid momentarily. The board of trustees also accepted the Meussdorffer deed. The deed was dated September 28, 1959 and accepted on January 18, 1960.

Additional fencing at Vista Grande School was also authorized with low bidder Coast Fence Company, $1278.90, receiving the job.

The board approved agreement with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company at a cost of $3000 for installation and $1225 per month for service for the Educational Center, which is to be built in the future in Westlake Unit 10. This item was presented so the architect could include it in his plans for the new district headquarters.

To meet state qualifications, trustees passed a deductive change order for the proposed new General Pershing School in the amount of $14,806.

Trustees approved Clifford J. Brotzman as inspector for the General Pershing School replacement salary of $650 a month, subject to the approval

Police Block Shoplift Try

Two 15-year-old Balboa High School sophomores were cited to Hillcrest and released in custody of their parents after being picked up for shoplifting at Spotlite Market, 1 Hillside boulevard, Sunday evening.

Ironically, one boy lives with his parents and 12 brothers and sisters, while the other lives with his grandmother.

Sergeant David Hansen, Officers Richard Sims and Tom Culley responded to a call from Manager Pat Fargundes who said three boys were shoplifting. Police collared the trio as they walked out of the store with a package of sliced ham, a can of spray shoe polish and a small apple pie.

One of the trio had nothing to do with the shoplifting and he was released.

Delinquents Wreck Auto Stolen From DC Police Officer

Two Daly City juveniles were apprehended Tuesday in San Mateo by the California Highway Patrol after a high-speed chase in which they demolished the family auto stolen from Daly City police Officer Jim Sunderland.

The 1949 car was towed to a San Mateo wrecking company. Officer Jim Welsh said the two youths have been jailed here a number of times for thefts of bicycles and cars.

'BRING ON THE HOUNDS' PLEA FOR PIGEONS

Mrs. Josephine Blaney, 50, 996 Southgate avenue, knows that her pigeons didn't fly the coop, so she asked Daly City police to bird-dog the case.

The woman told Officer James Sunderland that three pigeons were taken from a cage in her backyard.

'NO MURDER' IN WESTLAKE DEATH CASE

Laboratory tests last week showed that Evelyn "Cathy" Snyder, 32-year-old San Francisco woman whose nearly nude body was found in a Westlake apartment January 11, died from an excess of alcohol and barbituates.

Police Capt. Roy Beecher of Daly City said this conclusive finding eliminated the victim's brother-in-law, Robert Snyder, 32, as a suspect in the at-first-believed murder case.

Snyder, however, was booked by Daly City police on a charge of forging checks in order to buy liquor and barbituates. Beecher said Snyder wrote the name of his friend, Courtney Kurrell, on the checks. Kurrell, 22, rents the Westlake apartment in which Mrs. Snyder expired.

Due in municipal court next Tuesday to face the forgery charges, Snyder appeared "to be in a fog," Beecher said, throughout his detention in DC jail pending final autopsy tests on the dead woman.

Police still are unable to determine how the victim sustained heavy bruises on her face. Snyder denied striking his sister-in-law and a polygraph (lie detector) test confirmed that his account of the incident appeared to be truthful.

Beecher said the case now is closed, with death officially attributed to natural causes.

City Council Meet

The 8 p.m. meeting will be preceded by a study session of the council, beginning at 7 o'clock.

'ALL OR NOTHING'

State Tells Mission Plan

Assistant State Highway Engineer J. P. Sinclair emphatically told Daly City officials Tuesday in San Francisco that the earmarked $100,000 in state funds for improvements on Mission street is an "all or nothing at all proposition."

Mayor Edward Dennis set up the special session after Hugh Smith Jr., Mission street motel owner, protested the "lack" of designated left turn lanes on Mission in the state's three-fold project for Mission (from Knowles south to Market)—removal of the slippery, unused railway tracks, installation of a concrete, center dividing strip and resurfacing the entire street.

Representing the Chamber of Commerce, Smith had appeared earlier at a council meeting, urging the city to ask the state to modify its plans and sound out Mission street merchants whom he (Smith) said "had been neglected by the council when you approved the state project."

Smith, who subsequently submitted a petition signed by some 60 persons along Mission street protesting the state plans, was supported at the recent council meeting by Councilman Francis Pacelli and Micheal DeBernardi. Both councilmen felt there was time for more study and asked for a meeting with representatives of the merchants. Dennis and the two other councilmen turned down the "delay" plea, feeling that any changes now asked by the council might lead to abandonment of the entire project by the state.

Sinclair told the Daly City group that the state will not remove the existing tracks and repave Mission unless the center islands are also installed. He pointed out that streets with traffic islands "are safer than those without them."

Further answering Smith's arguments, Sinclair said traffic islands "do not affect the vol-

'SURVEY' CALLS TERMED PHONY BY DC POLICE

A woman who refuses to identify herself has been making numerous phone calls to Westlake and St. Francis Heights residents, asking information about children for what she calls a "recreation department survey."

Dee Van Nest, director of Daly City's parks and recreation department, says the phone calls are "phony" because his office is making no such survey.

Van Nest notified police after several Daly City housewives said they had been called by the woman who asks the ages and names of children and when they are usually at home.

NO 'UNITY' WAS MANIFEST

St. Francis Heights, Broadmoor, JESD Fight Council Plan

If the "voice of the people" is weighed by the State Division of Highways in selecting a north-south freeway route and its laterals through Daly City, the choice will be even more difficult for the men in Sacramento.

Last Wednesday's stormy public hearing on the six state route proposals produced nothing that even resembled a united stand—by either Daly City or its immediate sister cities to the south.

The South SF High School auditorium was plentifully populated for the four hours and 20 minute session, punctuated by the fight between residents of St. Francis Heights-Broadmoor and Westlake area spokesmen who bitterly argued against and for the Daly City council's "standpat" presentation in favor of the eight-lane interstate route down Junipero Serra boulevard.

Councilman Francis Pacelli, chairman of Daly City's "disputed" city freeway committee, and City Attorney Paul Hupf made strongly-phrased speeches against any freeway lateral proposed through Westlake and testified with facts supporting state route proposal No. 2—the Junipero Serra freeway, with modifications and provisions for east-west laterals off it—perhaps south of Daly City's limits.

San Bruno Mayor Clay Fisher and Frank Skillman, San Mateo County Planning Director, also backed up Daly City Council's position, endorsing State Proposal No. 2 on Junipero Serra. Skillman said Route 2 was consistent with the County Master Plan.

But this was merely the calm before the hurricane. South San Francisco Mayor Andrew Rocca and Pacifica City Councilman Harold Feyge went on record for state Route No. 6—the eight-laner down Junipero Serra and swinging west of South San Francisco's Winston Manor development. Route 6, with some modifications, isn't much unlike Route 2, preferred by Daly City, except that it might disturb Winston Manor and block South SF annexation plans for area west of Winston Manor and south of St. Francis Heights.

The real explosion at the heated hearing came next as representatives of St. Francis Heights, Jefferson Elementary School District, and the unincorporated Broadmoor areas declared unrelenting opposition to both the Junipero Serra proposals and any freeways involving these jurisdictions.

David Plyer, representing the aroused St. Francis Heights homeowners, and Mrs. Michael Amorose, of the same organization and also speaking unofficially for Holy Angels parish and school parents, verbally lashed out at the Daly City council and Pacelli, in particular, for an "abrupt decision as the city's stand on the freeway" and challenged any state route that would show preference to one part of Daly City over another neighborhood.

School trustee Thomas Noonan of Jefferson Elementary District, a resident of St. Francis Heights, even went further in assailing the Daly City council's position

Noonan, following Jeff Elementary District Supt. Richard Foster to the podium, drew a quick counter reply from State Engineer J. P. Sinclair when Noonan charged that "I heard the state drafts several routes for its hearings . . . in a move to confuse the people and to make the selection of the route the state wants much easier."

Sinclair, who maintained tight control over the meeting, quickly interrupted Noonan, with "these aspersions about our department (the state) are completely false and are not appreciated."

Noonan didn't let this comeback stop him, however. He charged the state "is destroying the cities with freeways, making arbitrary cuts through communities as if the area were a desert."

Asking the state to adjourn or postpone the public hearing for route adoption for "at least four months," Noonan said most residents hadn't had enough time to study all the feasible freeway routes. Again, this was a direct slap at Pacelli and the city council's stand in favor of a Junipero Serra route.

SUPERVISORS PLEDGE CUT IN TAX RATE

County Manager Bob Stallings has informed department heads that the board of supervisors forsees another cut in the property tax for next fiscal year starting this July.

Stallings instructed the department chieftains "not to submit any new projects of major expenditure."

Last year supervisors trimmed the tax rate four cents to its present $1.84 per $100 rate.

Stallings said the only "expansion of services" would be to meet a 21,000 jump in population over last year. He approximated the county's population at 432,000.

Swedish Firm Eyes City's Sewage Plant

Who says Daly City isn't well known?

It's reputation is growing by leaps and bounds.

At Monday's meeting of the Northern San Mateo County Sanitation Board in Westlake, directors were read a letter from an engineering-architectural firm at Stockholm, Sweden, asking information on the local sewage plant and its centrifuge machine.

Marie Muylaert, secretary to the sanitation board, will have to be careful in answering the request on paper. The Swedish firm seeking the data is known as "Vattenbyggnadsbyran."

The Stockholm company noted it had seen the article and picture of the NSMCSD plant in the December 1959 issue of the widely-circulated "Water and Sewage Works" magazine.

Monday's meeting was fairly routine for the sanitation board. Supervisor Tom Callan took over as chairman in the absence of Bob St. Clair.

Only agenda business of merit was a report that the sewage overflow from two manholes at the Daniel Webster school site had been corrected. Callan and Francis Pacelli also approved the establishment of a minimum fee of $25 for Safeway on its commercial garbage disposal operation for a one-year period.

Tabled for more study were the abandonment of a portion of C street from district jurisdiction, a reappraisal of the district's collection system, and a review of Doelger's and district sewage needs in Westlake Unit No. 11.

SAUSALITO MAN GOES TO COURT ON RAPE CHARGE

Robert Charles Dager, alias Robin Degman, held on charges of raping a 33-year-old San Francisco woman, will appear in municipal court next Tuesday.

Dager, 35, 10A Second street, Sausalito, was arrested last week by Daly City police inspector George Brooks. The victim, mother of a young son, said she fell asleep in Dager's Sausalito apartment and awoke in an auto on a road near Westlake where the alleged attack took place.

Housewife Loses Wallet At Bank—She Forgot It

Sarah C. Lewkowitz, 501 Vista Grande avenue, told Daly City Police Officer Matthew Murray that she "forgot" her wallet Monday afternoon while filling out a slip at the Bank of America branch in Colma.

Returning an hour later, she could not find the wallet where she had left it on a desk.

The housewife, whose husband, Joseph, is chairman of the elementary school board and a gas station owner, said she "would like to have the wallet returned because it contains valuable papers."

She estimated there was about $100 in the wallet.

'Moms March' On Polio Next Week

The door-to-door drive is this area—all of Daly City, Colma and Broadmoor—will be held on Thursday evening, January 28, announces Chairman Mrs. Sanford Vickers.

"It will be greatly appreciated if you will leave your porchlights on next Thursday evening so that we volunteers will know that you, too, are fighting to prevent these destructive diseases," she stressed.

Mrs. Vickers said all mothers who wish to "march" in the local drive should immediately contact their neighborhood chairmen or call her, PL 5-3590.

The following are local chairmen: Mrs. M. Fisher, Crocker-Pershing PTA, DE 3-0591; Mrs. M. Plansky, Jefferson High PTA, PL 5-6849; Mrs. E. Stone, Woodrow Wilson PTA, PL 5-5346; Mrs. S. ON THE JOB less than a year, Superintendent Richard L. Foster of Jefferson Elementary School District Monday was given a new four-year contract and a salary raise to $16,000 a year. Foster was with the Marin County school system before coming to Daly City in September of 1959.

EDITORIALS PRAISED

61 Residents Cite Newspaper's Pleas For Better Government

(Editor's Note: Following petition, signed and verified by 61 Daly City residents, was delivered to Marchbanks Publications newspaper office this week, regarding the editorial stand on Daly City council issues.)

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

Your recent newspaper front page editorials are the kind of reporting our community is desperately in need of. We sincerely hope that you will continue to "highlight," reveal, expose or even explode the many issues confronting our city and area that otherwise will not be brought to the attention of our residents.

The January 6 editorial highlighted a very significant community shortcoming—Why go to a Council meeting if you do not stay to see the entire action? As many of us know, you have to see the action to appreciate the lack of real leadership.

The January 13 editorial highlights and exposes the Council's lack of concise, constructive planning and what this serious shortcoming will soon cost us in higher taxes.

Some place along the line these past several years, we (and the Council) seem to have

Elementary Chief Gets Pay Boost

Richard Leroy Foster, who assumed the superintendency of Jefferson Elementary School District last September, was granted a new four-year contract Monday night by the board of trustees who also raised his annual pay from $14,500 to $16,000.

Trustee Frank Verducci expressed the board's unanimous action on Foster, declaring:

"All who have come in contact with Dick Foster and have noted the tremendous progress this district has made in the four months he has been in charge are well aware of his value. The salary raise is just one means of showing our satisfaction with his performance."

Daly City Firm's Stolen Car Turns Up In Utah Town

Two Southern California men were apprehended in Utah by the Highway Patrol last Wednesday while driving a 1959 convertible that had been stolen from Gateway Chevrolet, 7400 Mission street, between January 8 and 12.

Utah's hold on Julius M. Miller, 28, of Long Beach, and Thomson Edward Hare, 18, Costa Mesa, expired, and they were later picked up by the sheriff at Rawlins, Wyoming. The sheriff held them for illegal registration and vagrancy.

Both men, who have prior police records, will be prosecuted by the FBI under sections of the Dryer Act, according to San Francisco Special Agent C. Herriman.

BOY, 11, HURT AS AUTO HITS HIS BICYCLE

Eleven-year-old James McGowan, 1142 Hanover street, was transported to Junipero Serra Hospital by M&D Ambulance Saturday at 2:45 p.m. after an auto struck his bicycle.

The driver of the vehicle was Robert James Masie, 20, 354 Rockwood drive, San Francisco. Masie, who works in the accounting department for the C&H Sugar Company in San Francisco, was not cited by Officer Richard deLosa, pending further investigation.

Two Pacifica School Sites Being Graded

High school district trustees Monday night heard from Architect Mark Falk that 90 per cent of the grading has been completed on the Terra Nova High school site in the Linda Mar section of Pacifica.

Trustees approved a change order from Berger Coastwide Construction Company, upping the total grading cost at Terra Nova to $277,241. The board also granted soils engineers Lee and Praszker a continuous contract to cover the duration of the Oceana project, limiting payment to a $6000 maximum.

Grading at the Oceana High site in Sharp Park will begin this week. Edward Keebel Construction of San Jose has this $188,825 contract. The firm has a deadline of 90 days.

Construction is scheduled to start on the new Pacifica high schools a week or two after bids are opened May 1. Oceana and Terra Nova will open their doors to Pacifica students in September of 1961.

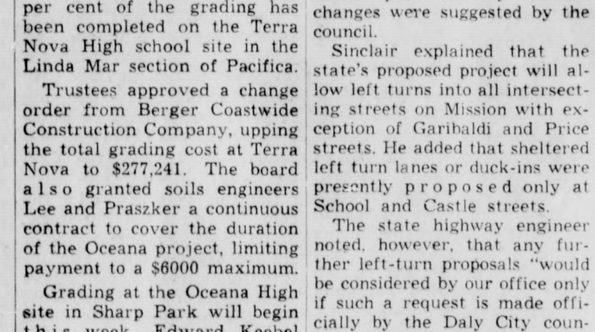

TEACHER'S SON ADMITS THEFT OF AUTOS HERE

A 17-year-old Balboa High school senior accompanied by his mother, a school teacher, reported to Daly City Police Station last Thursday stating that he had stolen a car from in front of 6232 Mission street on January 5.

The boy was picked up in Carson City, Nevada, where he had driven the car. He was released there and was instructed to notify authorities here. Officer Richard Brewer said Nevada police were not going to cite him for violation of the Dryer act.

John B. Hayes, of San Anselmo, is the owner of the 1959 two-door sedan. He had left it for repairs with James Donahue Desoto Dealer when it was stolen from in front of the auto dealer's garage. The boy was cited to Hillcrest.

A hundred years ago one farm worker supported only four persons in addition to himself, compared to 25 nowadays.

Mission Plan

In conclusion, Sinclair said bids for the overall Mission project will be asked within a few months "and will go on schedule unless the council changes its mind."

Smith, accompanied by fellow Chamber man Fred Martin and Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy and his brother, Jim, who also own property fronting Mission, claims the state plan is bad for business becaus it fails to provide enough left-turn lanes. The council majority, however, feel Smith's main objective is to block the entire center dividing strip, thinking it would hurt his business in the matter of east-west access across Mission. The Kennedy brothers, who have an interest in a motel near Smith's, also share the same attitude.

Mayor Dennis said he checked out merchants along Mission who had been contacted by Smith and "most of them got the wrong story and not the right concept of what the state project will mean to Daly City."

Dennis earlier told Smith that "safety is the main factor for improvement on Mission" and that the state could nix the whole plan if any radical changes were suggested by the council.

Sinclair explained that the state's proposed project will allow left turns into all intersecting streets on Mission with exception of Garibaldi and Price streets. He added that sheltered left turn lanes or duck-ins were presently proposed only at School and Castle streets.

The state highway engineer noted, however, that any further left-turn proposals "would be considered by our office only if such a request is made officially by the Daly City council."

Councilman DeBernardi, not present at the meeting Monday, also opposes the lack of specific left-turn provisions, but not the overall project. DeBernardi's concern mainly is access to his gas station at School and Mission.

Smith, satisfied with Sinclair's statements ended Monday's session with the remark that he would still ask the council to seek modification of the state plans.

New city engineer for Daly City, Bill Chapman, attended Monday's conclave with Sinclair and confirmed statements made by all parties attending for the official record.

Freeway Stand

Broadmoor Police Commissioner Harry Brown and citizens from Garden Village and other adjacent unincorporated areas also lashed the Daly City Council's endorsement of a modified Route 2 or the city-recommended East Y-T route.

Like Noonan, Brown cited the seriousness of any loss in assessed valuation caused by the destruction of homes and businesses to make way for a freeway.

Brown said a Junipero Serra freeway, if adopted, would take so much money off the tax rolls that both the Broadmoor Police District and the Colma Fire District might have to dissolve for lack of operating funds via taxes. He also wondered if the state was aware Junipero Serra Hospital, located on the west side of Junipero Serra boulevard, might be uprooted by the proposed freeway.

The pointed comments of Plyer and Noonan, both bitterly attacking the Daly City council, were accompanied by those of Mrs. Amorose, the final speaker at the marathon meeting.

The tiny housewife said she was "ashamed as a Daly City taxpayer" that Councilman Pacelli "cast aspersions on us (St. Francis Heights residents) and implied that McKeon instigated our protests for his own advantage."

Earlier in the meeting, Pacelli and Hupf had made direct reference to Chris McKeon in their presentations, declaring the developer had endorsed the "unanimous city freeway committee resolution in November of 1959 in favor of the East Y-T route along Junipero Serra."

Although McKeon's son, George, was present at the hearing, he made no comment on any of the remarks voiced by the procession of county and city spokesmen.

Mrs. Amorose told the then-smaller audience that 13 of Daly City's 22 freeway committee members were from Westlake and furthered Plyer's argument that St. Francis Heights was given only token, last-minute representation.

Mrs. Amorose added that Postmaster Vincent Murphy of Daly City, a member of the city freeway committee, "said he was never in favor of the council's East Y-T route."

Pacelli, in previous comments to the throng, pointed out that McKeon was the only city freeway committee member who "just recently launched an active movement in opposition to the unanimous stand of the freeway committee."

Like Noonan, Mrs. Amorose repeated that the people in St. Francis Heights and the unincorporated areas "have just as much right to be concerned about disruptions to our schools and basic services."

The housewife added that Holy Angels Church and its plans for additional school facilities also would be adversely affected by a freeway . . . "just as much as the church and schools in Westlake."

She concluded that "the Daly City council was handing the state Junipero Serra boulevard on a silver platter."

Supt. Foster of the Jefferson Elementary District drew a heavy round of applause at the hearing when he presented his board's position against "all freeways within our district." Foster said his board of trustees felt the district could not stand to be cut off and divided "any more than we are at present."

Sinclair, who gave everyone ample time to be heard, concluded the session with the summary statement, "all the arguments presented here today will be considered by us in reaching a recommendation on the route we deem feasible."

He estimated his office would be ready to forward its recommendation to the State Highway Commission in Sacramento within three months. Another public hearing before final adoption of the north county basic routes is possible, he added.

Clarifying a few explosive assertions made by a handful of speakers, Sinclair declared that the state had ruled out the Daly City council's suggested East Y-T route "tunnel" connection to Skyline and the Edgemar freeway "because the tunnel would be impractical in view of the area's earthquake fault conditions."

Sinclair pointed out that freeway proposals were made with rapid transit projections in mind, and also that his office had informed all public agencies and governmental bodies of the proposed routes and data on these routes. The latter answer was in reference to a charge by Noonan that the elementary school board hadn't been contacted much by the state on its freeway timetable and proposals.

The state hearing attracted a crowd of about 400 officials and residents, among whom were approximately 45 speakers.

Giving the city of Daly City's official stand, as pronounced by the city council, Hupf asserted that Daly City's position is "uncompromising on rejecting the Skyline-Alemany route" . . . and "we urge modification of State Route 2 to provide for a lateral east-west freeway to Edgemar road—avoiding existing homes and developments."

Mayor Edward Dennis, Chamber of Commerce's Peter Markovich, and Edward O'Donnell of Our Lady of Mercy Parish in Westlake also were introduced by Pacelli. Each discussed the "destructiveness" of a freeway along Alemany and Skyline and endorsed a modified Junipero Serra freeway route—consistent with the city council's position.

Other speakers at the meeting included Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo, declaring himself against a freeway along Alemany in Westlake and any routes that disturb developments; Hartley Appleton, Westlake Subdivisions Association attorney, defining the state's "limits" in proposing routes near existing residences; Attorney Edward Berry, of the San Francisco Committee To Study Freeways; who claimed the state "was lulling everyone to sleep and left some freeways hanging in midair (referring to Southern Freeway delay in San Francisco on Alemany boulevard); Assemblyman Charles Myers of San Francisco's 19th District, pledging his support for fair public hearings; Attorney William Hanna, representing Pacific Coast Aggregates, firm on Junipero Serra, against freeway intrusion on business land; real estate proprietor Ricco Lagomarsino, claiming Junipero Serra freeway routing near School street intersection was impractical; and a spokesman for the Garden Village homeowners, charging the Daly City committee with "tyranny by majority rule."

Superintendent Richard Foster told the board that the monies spent during the first six months of the 1959-1960 school year amounted to 36 percent of the adopted budget. There is 64 percent remaining for the next six months, but he noted that the last half of the school year is the more costly period.

Westlake Tot Injured As Car Hits Trike

There Is A Way Out!

It is with a great deal of satisfaction that we note a change in the apparent apathy of so many people toward local city problems and conditions. This can best be judged by the avalanche of letters, phone calls and personal talks we have had in the past few weeks — and also by a revived attendance at council meetings; one thing we have persistently advocated for a considerable length of time.

Of course, this is only the beginning — there is much more to be done by everyone to resolve the present difficulties and problems of our city. We do feel, however, that increased taxes and expenditures are not the answer to the city's plight. If it took the sales tax to get us into the mess we are now in, it would seem to follow that more additional taxation would merely add to the burden and not be a permanent cure at all.

What we do need most is an aroused citizenry who will see that city business is run for the advantage and good of all — not just a few. And how can that be done?

Probably by a strong, firm city charter which will delineate the responsibilities, duties and limitations of all — from the council down to the newest and last employee on the city payroll.

Remember — this is your city. You and only you can change it, for better or for worse! Don't take a negative attitude and say: "Let George do it, I'm too busy." Even if "George" does it, he won't get your tax bill. YOU WILL, however.

Next city council meeting is scheduled for Monday, January 25, 8 p.m. at city hall. Make it a point to be there.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader Criticizes Council Edict On Freeway; Says All 'Confused'

Dear Mr Bradshaw:

It is no wonder the Daly City Council is some $170,000 behind in its budget at the mid-way point of the fiscal year. If the way in which the freeway committee was chaired is indicative of council decisions, I suppose the taxpayers can count themselves fortunate that the deficit is not even greater.

The decisions to adopt Route "East Y-T" and abolish the Daly City Freeway Committee were hastily made during the course of one afternoon. These decisions were "not" made by the committee which worked for some one and a half years. This decision was made having full knowledge that the state highway engineers had virtually ruled out the tunnel portion of the East Y-T route.

A motion was made and passed by the Daly City Freeway Committee in November to hire the Tronoff Engineering firm to study all possible routes through Daly City. Tronoff never made his final report to the committee, since the committee was not in existence after December 28. How much money did this incomplete study cost the taxpayers?

At the January 13 hearing on freeways in northern San Mateo County, City Attorney Paul Hupf represented Daly City in recommending, at the council's instructions, the already confused East Y-T route.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hupf's presentation, Councilman Pacelli introduced Ray Charette, a private business man on Mission street. Charette presented a proposal known as "Plan ABC." Now, if the state highway engineers aren't confused, the taxpayers of our fair city are. Mr. Pacelli has done a thorough job of confusing everyone.

What is Daly City's position concerning freeways?

Sincerely,
David L. Plyer

Resident Cites Jitney Problem

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

The jitney story in last week's Westlake Times and Daly City Record is one that has been needed for a long time.

We have lived on Crestwood drive for over six years and for years we have had a battle with the jitney owners for the speeding that takes place on this street all the time—in spite of what Mr. Ferris might think or say. Just come over and watch—if he needs proof.

We have asked the police department to do something about it—but their warnings are not enough. Maybe a few tickets might help.

All of us here on Crestwood with small children hope that with your help this speeding can be stopped before a child is killed.

Thank you,
R. E. Smith

Why Stand In Line? Renew License Now!

Is there a blue-grey sticker on the rear license plate of your car?

Are you taking care of this important matter early in the New Year? Or letting it slide until the last minute?

People who renew their automobile registration during the first few days of January, and put the renewal sticker in place, can in good conscience look for the new sticker on the license plates of their friends and neighbors.

Motorists who get this chore out of the way as one of their first acts in 1960 will enjoy several advantages, according to Robert McCarthy, state director of motor vehicles.

First, there's the advantage of saving time. License renewal lines at local Motor Vehicles Department offices and at some newals as a courtesy to their banks, which are handling recustomers, are getting progressively longer as the February 4 deadline approaches.

Secondly, license renewal is a necessary evil, and once accomplished, you can forget it.

And then, there's the fun of being able to sport your new license sticker around people who are postponing their application as long as possible, and who will have to wait in long lines to avoid paying the late penalty. Having taken care of this item, you can go on to more important things.

With more than eight million motor vehicles to be registered in California in just over a month's time, every person who values time is well advised to do his "license sticker shopping early."

Daly City residents may renew their automobile license for 1960 at the Westlake office of the Department of Motor Vehicles at 199 Southgate avenue. The office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, and from 8 until noon on Saturdays during January.

Census Office Established In San Mateo

Establishment of a district office for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing, at 120 North B street, San Mateo, was announced today by Director Leonard C Isley of the Census Bureau's regional office at Los Angeles.

Walter F. Flanley will be supervisor of the district office. He will direct a force of 23 crew leaders and 350 census takers.

Taking the 1960 census nationally will require the services of 160,000 enumerators, 10,000 crew leaders, and 400 district supervisors, all temporary workers. The district supervisors, working under the general direction of the permanent regional field directors, are responsible for all phases of the census in their districts. Duties of the district supervisor include the recruiting of the crew leaders, obtaining space for crew leader training, recruiting and training a small office staff, reviewing the completed questionnaires, and direct supervision of the field canvass which begins on April 1.

Prior to the start of the census, all households will receive in the mail an Advance Census Report Form, a new census-taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form, which contains the basic population and housing questions, gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit.

Campaigning, But For Another Cause!

City Clerk Evelyn Mosman of Daly City wasn't "campaigning" for re-election last week when she took off for Long Beach.

Mrs. Mosman, a Westlake resident, went to the southland in time for the arrival of another grandchild, a girl, born January 12 to her daughter, Mrs. Arleigh (Marilyn) Fonner.

Mrs. Fonner and her husband have two boys, Robbie and David.

The city clerk is still taking her long-delayed vacation. She's the wife of John A. Mosman, 1356 South Mayfair avenue.

School Site Termed 'Rendezvous' Area

Jefferson Elementary School District teaches many subjects, but . . .

Dr. David Shapiro, JESD assistant superintendent, notified police last week that the Christopher Columbus School site, at the corner of St. Francis and Skyline boulevards, was being used as a "lovers" lane."

Officer Robert Stables said he would patrol the spot more often to clear it of the "more amorous" youngsters.

NORMAN MACDONALD, one of two adult school teachers of Russian classes at Jefferson High, gives instruction (above) via the aid of television. Adult program director Louis Martin calls the Russian language instruction here a successful venture. In February, classes will also be given in Spanish, two in Russian, and two in Italian. The total of five classes in February is two more than are being offered this semester. Side photo shows James M. Susoeff and Mrs. Arlene Bell, two Jefferson District adults who appeared on KQED TV's Russian Language program, learning via blackboard. Susoeff, 269 Palisades drive, is assistant principal at Pacific Heights School in San Francisco. Mrs. Bell, 41 Cliffside drive, is a housewife and San Francisco State student.

State Has 15.3 Million

COUNTY POPULATION AT 413,900; INCREASE OF 11,000 LAST YEAR

Population of San Mateo County was 413,900 on January 1, 1960, according to estimates made by California Taxpayers' Association. The county showed an increase of 11,00 during the year 1959 and an increase of 178,241 since the 1950 census count of 235,659.

California reached a new population peak of 15,343,000 to start the new decade. In a pre-release of an article scheduled to appear in the January issue of "Tax Digest," official publication of the association, Hugh H. Brown, Cal-Tax research statistician, stated, "The state showed a near record growth of 540,000 during 1959. Since the end of World War II, growth of this volume has been exceeded only in 1956 and 1952."

Since the 1950 census, the state has gained over 4.75 million, an increase of 45 percent from the census total of 10,586,223. During the 1940 decade, the state gained about 3.68 million, showing a growth for that period of 53 percent. The gain in new residents during the 1950 decade will be over one million greater than it was during the 1940 decade.

Greatest numerical growth during 1959, according to Brown, was 103,000 in Los Angeles County. Orange County was second with 91,600 and San Diego County third with 77,100.

Greatest percentage gain during 1959 was 23 percent in El Dorado County where rapid growth and development of the area at the south end of Lake Tahoe and also around Placerville has brought many new inhabitants. Second greatest percentage growth was in Santa Barbara County, with 19 percent, the result of mushrooming growth around the Camp Vandenberg missile base. Third greatest percentage growth was 16 percent in Orange County where the dynamic growth of recent years continues.

The gain for the state of 540,000 during 1959 was produced in part, Brown stated, by an excess of births over deaths of approximately 228,000 and the balance of approximately 312,000 resulted from the excess of in-migration over out-migration. During 1959, the average daily gain from natural increase was 625 and from net migration was 855 for a daily total average gain of 1480 or, roughly, 1500 a day. With the ever larger population, the relatively high birth rate and the slowly declining death rate, natural increase will soon produce over 250,000 per year.

"While population growth is to be desired, it invariably brings demands for increased government expenditures. Education, welfare, hospitals, protection and probation—all place added tax burdens on the community. It becomes even more imperative that each tax dollar be wisely spent," the Cal-Tax article concluded.

Knights Urge Fight Against Race Bigotry

Knights of Columbus councils throughout Northern and Central California last Saturday in Palo Alto went on record to "deplore and condemn the recent symptoms and overt acts indicating a rise in anti-Semitism throughout the world."

Council leaders told members that all representatives of the Knights of Columbus "should take every means at their command to counteract this undemocratic and irreligious movement."

The action came after international public unrest over anto-Jewish incidents in Europe and in some communities of this country.

HI-FI CLUB DANCE AIDS POLIO MARCH

The Hi-Fi Teen Club, sponsored by Daly City's Department of Parks and Recreation, will hold a Grub Dance this Saturday night, all proceeds going to the March of Dimes. The dance will be held at War Memorial Community Center from 8 to 11:30, and is for members only. Admission price is 50 cents per person.

The Executive Council wishes to thank the generosity of the members for donations to the KIP Benefit show for Carmel Crespi. The Hi-Fi Club donated $13.50 to this cause.

NANETTE Hedrick, (holding poster), gies advice to youngsters to see the performances of "Song of The Troubadour" which will be held at Colma School on February 12 and at Benjamin Franklin School the next day. Behind her are members of the coordinating committee for Jefferson Elementary and High School Districts. Seated (left to right) are Mrs. Marianne Hedrick, Mrs. Jacqueline Niskern and Mrs. Servart Ojakian. Standing, Dr. David Shapiro, Mrs. Beatrice Greenameyer and Don Lesher, president of Hillside PTA. Proceeds from the play go to the school districts Children's Welfare Fund.

AROUND TOWN

By ROY HURLBERT

A guy rose from seaman to the Navy's officer ranks in World War II, Dick Foster, Jeff Elementary School District's new boss (since last September), got a fitting reward for more high-caliber duty this week.

In giving him a new four-year contract and a $1500 per year pay hike the school board was unanimous.

Foster is providing exceptional leadership to one of the biggest operations in the Bay Area.

Last week's freeway hearing, hosted by South San Francisco, brought varying points of view—a tribute to the democratic process.

State Highway Engineer J. P. Sinclair, a man of expected fortitude, concluded the five hour carnival "thanking all of you who stayed to the bitter end."

Although state representatives get blasted from all sides, they seldom lose their composure when the going gets rough.

Members of the working press who carefully weighed all the speeches were impressed with Mr. Sinclair, in particular, for his professional bearing—a conditioned reflex.

It's easy to criticize those in authority; it's another story when the cannons are aimed in your own direction.

* * * * *

How much credence does the State Highway Commission put in public protests and arguments at these hearings?

As far as we know, politics plays a potent part in the selection of freeway routes. After all, members of the State Highway Commission are laymen, appointed to these "prestige" posts by the party in power. Usually said party in power has the final "say" on everything.

* * * * *

A "very concerned" Daly City housewife called the newspaper last week asking where she could obtain a copy of the state's six freeway route proposals.

We asked if she attended the well-publicized hearing in South City. No, she hadn't.

We told her to contact one or all of three sources for the maps—the State Highway Office in San Francisco, Daly City's public works office, or a Daly City councilman.

When we mentioned "councilman" she seemed confused—she didn't even seem to know what a "council" is.

Wonder how many people are unaware Daly City has a local government?

* * * * *

The rumors are true—St. Francis Heights will have a candidate in the April 12 council election.

Biggest reason is these people feel they were overlooked by the council in the freeway committee controversy and that Westlake is represented more in most council decisions.

Who will be the St. Francis Heights standard bearer?

Tune in next week. We don't know as yet, either.

* * * * *

County supervisors, five men who are paid a pretty penny and wield unlimited authority, aren't too interested in returning to the system of electing supervisors by districts.

About 24 years ago, candidates for supervisor were elected solely by the vote in their individual districts. Today a candidate has to solicit the most ballots from county voters at large.

Since most of the political money is located in San Mateo County's southern precincts, north end candidates, no matter what caliber, always get the short end of the stick.

To be successful, a supervisor candidate just has to have a county-wide reputation, lots of dollars, and sense.

* * * * *

Daly City's council chambers aren't small in comparison to other Peninsula city facilities, but when crowds of the size which attended the recent freeway sessions here figure to repeat, it's time to change the meeting sites to larger establishments.

It might be politically prudent for the Daly City council, when it expects an overflow throng, to move regular meetings to War Memorial Community Center or to Westmoor High School.

More than 50 people on hand for the December 28 council fuss had to stand outside in the hall. Several of these folks left because they couldn't hear what was going on.

Councilmen are sensitive souls and they shiver when the audiences are more sizable.

Council meeting attendance was never heavier and this is a promising omen. Government belongs to the people, according to election promises here and everywhere.

* * * * *

Leo J. Ryan, South City Councilman who made it close for Assemblyman Lou Francis two years ago, says he won't run again, hinting that DC's Bob St. Clair is the choice of Demos in the 25th District.

Ryan, a high school teacher, faces a re-election fight in his own community. But St. Clair may not enter the race for Francis' job.

The thinking is that Francis is too formidable an incumbent. St. Clair can't afford to lose. It's bad for his political future.

* * * * *

Plight of Daly City Police Officer Jeff Wetmore is unfortunate—not only to his career but to his fellow officers.

Any unsavory incident in which a lawman is involved affects all others in the profession.

When people lose respect for protective authority, every policeman's job is made that much more difficult.

It's not easy being a cop. Too many people are hostile towards the men who are paid to protect rights and property.

* * * * *

Newspaper cooperation with police paid dividends in San Mateo when a junior college youth, only 19, was trapped in the process of making obscene phone calls.

Seems the psycopath had been calling women whose pictures appeared in the county's daily newspaper. Police said the student's calls followed a pattern. So they contacted the newspaper editor who "planted" a phony pin-up picture in the paper, listing the model's name and phone number.

Sure enough, the youth called the number. The call quickly was traced by waiting police and the offender was hauled off to jail.

Folks in Westlake's Olympic section are heartbroken about the death of Mike Cunning, 25-year-old milkman who died Friday night from pneumonia.

A Westlake resident, Mike was like a member of the family. The loss is shared by his many, many friends.

Daly City motorbike cop Dick Phillips, commenting on his military experiences, said he once was stationed in a Texas town so small that on Saturday night the only "entertainment" was going to the local barber shop "to watch a few haircuts."

Roundup Girls Tell Thrills To Local Scouts During Potluck

A happy combination of fun, food, and a wee bit of business, comprised the traditional annual potluck dinner for over 100 adult Girl Scout members of the Parkview-Sterling Park and Peoria neighborhoods, last Thursday evening at Daly City War Memorial building.

Highlight of the evening was the spectacular recounting of experiences by the eight Roundup selectees for the national Colorado encampment last summer. These Senior Scouts were selected from the North San Mateo Council as outstanding in their abilities, and spent two weeks at the massive camp for 10,000 Girl Scouts and adults.

The Roundup girls are Marilyn Garelick, Millbrae; Ann and Joan Burke, San Bruno; Fran Robinson, South City; Caroline Buhs, San Bruno; Carol Duke, Daly City; Barbara Golloday, Colma; and Ann Mori, Colma.

Carol Duke received her 5-year pin, and Ann Mori, a 10-year pin. Ann has been selected as a delegate to the All-State Wilderness Camp in August 1960.

Awards made to adult Girl Scouts were: A 10-year pin to Mrs. Dorothy Hillman; a certificate of appreciation to Mrs. Servart Ojakian, Girl Scouts' publicity chairman; and 5-year pins to the Mesdames: Martha Digman, Mil Kraus, Imelda Ellis, Pat Burkey, Esther Whitney, and Catherine Velando.

Among the honored guests who attended: Mrs. Bette Everhart, president of the North San Mateo Council; Mrs. Margaret Jones, last year's president, and the Mesdames, Stella Jensen, Frances Windhurst, Imelda Ellis, Ann Eason, Ralph Damon, Allan Mori, and Bertha Harding.

Chairman of the successful affair was Mrs. Hilda Heagney, a 16-year Girl Scout leader. She was assisted by a committee composed of the Mesdames: Helen Duke, Terry Brown, Eve Liberato, Emily Kraus, Blanche Button, Dorothy Hillman, Martha Digman, Sylvia Steinbach, Marian Plansky, Midge Young, and Violette Brown.

The Senior Mariner Scouts who helped with serving, washing dishes, and clean-up were: Diana Davison, Loretta Durham, Pam Button, Penny Goulden, and Dolores Spinetti.

During the short business meeting Mrs. Eve Liberato, neighborhood chairman, announced the February 15 Council meeting in South City, from 1-3 p.m.; that Girl Scout Sunday will be observed March 6; and the next meeting will be held on Wednesday night, February 10, at Parkview Scout House.

Friday Evening Folk-Dancing Classes Here

Folk dance classes for beginning intermediates will be held in Daly City War Memorial Community Center on Friday evenings from 7:30 to 10, starting January 22 under the direction of Elsie Maclaren.

This new, more advanced series is not for beginners, although dances previously taught will be reviewed. It is open not only to the beginners who graduated in December, but to anyone who has had a few months of folk dancing. Although the instruction is primarily on international folk dances, the first half hour will be used for the fundamentals of square dancing which is considered as one of the forms of folk dancing in the United States.

Through the cooperation of the Daly City Department of Parks and Recreation, the charge is very nominal—$3 a couple, $1.50 for singles, which amounts to 10 cents a lesson. All receipts will be used for the expenses of a folk dance open to dancers and spectators without charge. Last year the dance was held unintentionally on Mother's Day, but there was an attendance of 300 and there have been many requests for a repeat. The new class will take an active part in the preparations, meantime learning delightful folk dances that will be used on the program.

Many happy hours of fun and excitement are in store for all who line up for Folk Dancing on Fridays starting January 22.

FOR DALY CITY CHILDREN

PTA's, Schools Going All Out For 'Song Of The Troubador'

More than 20 members of the co-ordinating committee for Jefferson Elementary and High School District held a meeting Monday afternoon for discussion of plans for presentation of the play, "Song of the Troubadour" to youngsters of this area.

The musical play will be given on two separate days—Friday, February 12, at Colma School multi-purpose room, and Saturday, February 13, in Benjamin Franklin School auditorium. On both days the program will start at 1 p.m. and will last about an hour.

Admission price is 50 cents for children and adults alike. Tickets may be purchased at school.

Chief purpose of bringing the production to this area is to give the young people an opportunity to see something worthwhile. This in turn will give them an opportunity to develop a better understanding of the place of "live" theatre in the arts.

The money earned from the show will be put to good use in the district's Welfare Fund which is used to assist needy students.

Overall chairman for the PTA co-ordinating committee is Mrs. Beatrice Greenameyer of Jefferson High School PTA.

Mrs. Gene Hedrick is in charge of the ticket arrangements. Phone JU 4-4427 for information. Mrs. Jackie Niskern will assist her. Mrs. Hedrick reports that tickets have been distributed to every school PTA in the district. Notices will be sent home with the children prior to the day of sale of tickets at school.

Mrs. L. Sarubbi is in charge of ushers at Hillside PTA and Mrs. Phillip Glebow for ushers at Benjamin Franklin School.

Publicity chairman is Mrs. Servart Ojakian of the Jefferson High School PTA.

San Francisco Players Guild is producing the "Song of the Troubadour" with a cast of eight characters, and is set in the time of the troubadours in Southern France, with music from old French tunes. A recent showing at Palo Alto schools was well received. Well over one million children have benefited from and enjoyed the Guild's beautiful "live" shows.

Parents should make a note, and mark this as a "must" date for their children to attend on the holiday weekend of February 12.

The newspaper will carry further notices in the weeks to come.

Ministerium Here Seeks DC 'Brotherhood'

At a recent meeting of the Daly City Ministerium, Rabbi Solomon Shore was appointed chairman of the Brotherhood Committee. Shore reports that plans are now being formed for a city-wide brotherhood meeting to be held at War Memorial Building during National Brotherhood Week, February 21-28. A well-known speaker is being secured to deliver the address of the evening.

The purpose of meeting is to bring together people of all walks of life, regardless of creed or race, and finding the areas where all can and must work together to make the world a better place in which to live. It is hoped that special brotherhood rallies may also be held in the high schools of the city.

The Daly City Ministerium also voted to have a representative from the Ministerium present at each of the Daly City Council meetings. The study, designed to gain more definite knowledge of the clinical application of nursing skills to mentally ill children, will be carried out by Dr. Maleta J. Law Prohibits Midget Vehicles On Streets -- CHP

Captain John W. Kennedy, commander of the California Highway Patrol's Redwood City Area unit, warned owners of tiny gasoline engine powered vehicles to keep them off public streets or face prosecution for violating the state vehicle code.

"A 15-year-old Southern California youngster was killed two days after Christmas when he smashed the midget racer he had received for Christmas into a parked car," Capt. Kennedy declared. "The California Highway Patrol is determined to crack down as hard as it can on the illegal use of these vehicles. We don't want any more children killed because they were allowed to violate the law."

Captain Kennedy said the state law defines the midgets as motor vehicles, but they cannot be registered and licensed as such because they do not meet the legal requirements as to lights, brakes, windshield, and other equipment. Consequently, it is unlawful to drive them on public roads.

"Our main concern is with the safety of the youngsters. The law makes the parents liable if they allow an unlicensed vehicle to be operated by an unlicensed driver on a public street or highway. Parents violating this law will be cited in order to save their youngsters from injury or

Text Of Daly City's Stand On Freeways!

STATE HEARING

City Attorney Hupf Presents Council's Official Objectives

(Editor's Note: Following presentation was made by City Attorney Paul M. Hupf of Daly City at last Wednesday's public hearing by the State Division of Highways on proposed north San Mateo County freeway routes. Hupf's remarks represented the unanimous stand of the Daly City Council and the verdict of the City Freeway Committee, made earlier last year.)

The city of Daly City and the unincorporated area immediately adjacent to it represents a community of approximately 50,000 residents, the vast majority of whom have located themselves in this general area since the end of World War II, or for the most part since 1950.

The city has existed almost 50 years, having been formed shortly after the fire and earthquake of 1906 in San Francisco, and named after John Daly who very kindly offered shelter and help to many people who were adversely affected by this calamity.

The easterly portion of the city rests on the slopes of the Crocker hills, which when considering the location of freeways constitutes a natural barrier to the east. Of course, the ocean geographically limits the city on the west. For many years Junipero Serra boulevard was the more or less westerly extension of the city but annexations and developments which have occurred in the post war years have been to the west of Junipero Serra and it is in this area where the greater part of the 50,000 people above mentioned now reside.

Junipero Serra boulevard has been a main north-south thoroughfare, since it was created. It is at present carrying the bulk of the north-south traffic through Daly City, with Mission street and San Jose avenue also carrying a large volume of traffic. Since the latter streets are not a portion of this study no further mention will be made of them.

The development of property adjacent to Junipero Serra boulevard has been consistent with this pattern of heavy traffic including trucks and other vehicles. Almost adjacent to it and paralleling Junipero Serra to the east is a right of way for trains owned by the Southern Pacific Company and between Junipero Serra and this right of way are a number of commercial and industrial activities serviced by both railroad and highway. These properties so used are clustered near the northerly portion of Junipero Serra boulevard in Daly City. To the west is a golf course, privately owned, which, however approves the plan hereinafter proposed.

Other properties and developments have been established along Junipero Serra for the most part commercial, but as will be seen these will be little affected by the plan proposed.

The development of property to the west of Junipero Serra has been rapid. The area presently at the southerly limits of the city and west of Junipero Serra is at present under development.

To the south of Daly City and west of Junipero Serra boulevard lies the only remaining undeveloped portion of land in this portion of San Mateo County. From Rollingwood north (San Bruno) to Daly City, between Junipero Serra and Skyline, this is unincorporated territory.

To the southwest of Daly City, lies the City of Pacifica, situated narrowly between the ocean and the bluffs to the immediate east. It is confronted with a problem of traffic from its community reaching San Francisco.

The present proposals do not in any way affect any city in northern San Mateo County to the extent that the Daly City area is affected. Stated in another way Daly City may be described as a fulcrum of a web of freeways both to the south and the north of us.

Therefore Daly City recognizes:

1. That people to the south of us must pass through this city to get to San Francisco, and conversely from San Francisco back.

2. Similarly Daly City recognizes the desire of the residents of the city of Pacifica and coastal areas to reach San Francisco and return as reasonably fast as possible.

3. The city of Daly City realistically approaches these problems with an attitude of cooperation and consideration and it expects others to be similarly considerate of its problems and the problems presented by the location of freeways in its midst.

Internal Factors

1. Main thoroughfares wherever possible in the layout of the ideal city, should provide good means of internal travel, so that, police, fire and other essential city services may be provided efficiently and swiftly.

Limited access freeways in this instance are for the most part designed to carry traffic through Daly City and hence their location must be in such manner as to do the least harm to existing developments, and disturb as little as possible established community patterns of life.

It has been mentioned at the outset of this paragraph that other cities in northern San Mateo County are not as seriously affected as Daly City and its environs. This point, in the judgment of Daly City, cannot be overemphasized.

Daly City's position is truly unique. It is the only city confronted with the prospect of a limited access freeway actually going through its confines.

Moreover it is not alone confronted with one freeway but is indeed confronted with more than one.

It is indeed understandable then that this city should express concern and moreover should study this problem as carefully as it has.

Daly City is the only city confronted with the threat of the removal of existing homes.

Daly City is the only city threatened with the removal of existing commercial developments.

Daly City is the only city whose responsibility of providing vital municipal services will be vitally affected by the location of the freeway.

Therefore, it must be conceded in all fairness that Daly City is confronted by unique problems among all the cities in northern San Mateo County concerned with the instant proposals. The position of Daly City therefore must be given careful and considerate review.

We believe you will find the position of the city of Daly City a reasonable one, supported by the vast majority of its citizens, and one which merits adoption.

Because of the seriousness of the decision concerning freeways in its area, the City Council of Daly City almost two years ago, in April, 1958, formed a committee of representative citizens and groups drawn not only from the geographical limits of the city but from its environs as well.

Invitations were sent to a great number of churches, civic groups, business people, and others who might possibly be interested. This Highway District was advised of the formation of this committee by letter on April 16, 1958.

Represented on this committee were the Daly City Council; Jefferson Elementary School District; Jefferson Union High School District; the Chamber of Commerce of Daly City; the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club; Henry Doelger Builder Inc.; the Zita Corporation, developers of St. Francis Heights represented personally by Mr. Chris McKeon; Callan Realty; the Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association; the Garden Village homeowners and church and commercial interests affected.

After the studies were begun, the committee requested of this district additional information and as a result of this request one of the routes presented for study by the district was a route described as East Y-T.

All routes were considered but after study, the committee and subsequently the Daly City Council unanimously adopted and approved the route known as East Y-T.

It is necessary to emphasize that the Y-T route was unanimously adopted and that among those present and voting in favor of Y-T was Chris McKeon the developer of St. Francis Heights.

The Y-T route insofar as the interstate portion is shown on the present plans is generally the same, that is to say all proposed plans along Junipero Serra boulevard through Daly City generally follow the configuration of the Y-T route and are precisely approved by Daly City.

From the point where the Y-T route leaves Junipero Serra boulevard to the point where it joins with Edgemar road, Daly City wishes its position to be understood as flexible, subject to reasonable modification, but conditioned on the desire that existing homes not be disturbed unless absolutely necessary.

Reasons for the Y-T Route:

1. Junipero Serra boulevard in Daly City is a centrally located north-south thoroughfare.

2. Junipero Serra boulevard has always been recognized as a heavily traveled route. The pattern of construction and development adjacent to it is consistent with such use.

3. Property owners adjacent to Junipero Serra boulevard have approved the Y-T alignment on Junipero Serra. The developer of St. Francis Heights has favored it; the golf course favors it. Others affected have expressed favor or when contacted have been indifferent and without objection.

4. The Y-T alignment in its east-west portion provides direct and immediate access for traffic on Edgemar road to reach the interstate freeway, thus meeting the need of the city of Pacifica and its citizens.

5. The Pacifica City Council had previously supported the Y-T route and its present position is in no way inconsistent with this route.

6. The Y-T alignment in its east-west branch disturbs no existing homes; no existing development; nor any existing construction. Moreover, a southerly connection from Junipero Serra to Edgemar road can be made while the area is still under development, so that future construction can be made with a mind to the full impact of a freeway on a community. Proper planning has time for application.

7. Settled areas are not subjected to upheaval by the east-west portion of Y-T.

8. Lastly but not the least in importance a southerly connection to Edgemar road best serves the overall purpose of the system envisioned by the proposals made. Any other route than a southerly connection between Edgemar and the interstate freeway will tend to bring a great volume of traffic to the Alemany Knowles interchange, making it receive a great volume of cars.

A southerly connection will bring the Pacifica traffic to the interstate freeway south of Daly City, or at its southerly border. Other traffic from the population north and east will have a tendency to filter on at various points, such as 87th street and other proposed interchanges resulting in a more dispersed approach at peak hours.

Consideration of utmost importance require the rejection of the Alemany-Skyline branch.

Earlier, Daly City has expressed its attitude of cooperation and understanding in the approach to the problems presented by freeways and automobile traffic. It feels that conversely it has a right to expect similar understanding from others and particularly in this point. The Skyline-Alemany branch will render serious harm to Daly City, its people; it will render useless many improvements constructed at great expense, it will disturb patterns of community life which have become established; it simply must be finally and completely rejected.

1. Fire service cut off.

Daly City's central fire station, its main station, containing more equipment than any other, is located on Lake Merced boulevard north of Alemany boulevard. The equipment located in this section must serve the entire Westlake area north of and including Westmoor High School. In addition, this fire equipment would be available to the unincorporated areas immediately adjacent to Daly City in the Broadmoor area.

But most of all, the Westlake Shopping Center located south of Alemany boulevard contains many frame buildings, vulnerable to fire, and in need of every piece of fire-fighting equipment quickly when needed.

Freeways have been known to become congested. Locked bumpers at peak hours can slow traffic to a standstill to say nothing of more serious accidents. Congestion can spill over to on and off ramps and into adjacent areas. Freeways draw traffic to themselves.

It is no idle fear therefore of Daly City to consider the possibility that several hundred thousand dollars worth of fire-fighting equipment and manpower could be rendered useless by a freeway on Alemany boulevard simply by congestion at Lake Merced boulevard and Alemany. This consideration alone compels the rejection of Alemany as a freeway.

2. Consideration for fellow humans requires rejection of Alemany Skyline.

The individual good must suffer for the common good, it is true, but this principle must be applied with restraint and only used where no other alternative applies. We feel that it has already been demonstrated that other alternatives are better, and hence preferable because of that fact.

However, it is also true that if two courses of action are possible; one which adversely affects a great number of individual members of a community and another which adversely affects no one, except possibly someone's chance at future profit, then the latter choice must be made.

Certainly the area of Westlake in Daly City adjacent to Alemany boulevard is not a blighted area. No one can urge removal of homes and dislocation of families unless unquestionably necessary.

The vice of the Alemany freeway is that the area was built without consideration of a roadway of such dimensions. Now, to superimpose a freeway along Alemany boulevard would do incalculable harm.

a) Homes would be taken; homes occupied by families with small children for the most part; newly settled; located with the idea that they had found a home for themselves; completely unaware that they may be uprooted. The children of these homes are located in schools, not always an easy thing to do today.

Moreover, these homes are occupied to a considerable extent by men who risked their lives for their country, returned fortunately, married and settled as good citizens. They are entitled to extra consideration, but it is not necessary to apply any. Ordinary fairness and justice require that these homes not be taken.

3. Four schools are located in the immediate vicinity of Alemany boulevard as is a church.

Three public elementary schools are located north of Alemany boulevard. Two of them will accommodate only the early grades. Only one takes students to the eighth grade. Children to the south of Alemany boulevard attend these schools. A freeway and the traffic it will engender will make their journey to and from these schools more hazardous.

Similarly a parochial school which ultimately will accommodate 800 students is located immediately to the south of Alemany boulevard. Children from the north of Alemany boulevard attending this school will be similarly affected.

4. Elevation of the freeway will present hazards to an area basically residential.

As has been said, freeways attract vehicles. Heavy and large trucks will use whatever route is selected. Vehicles have been known to leave a roadway. Inconsiderate motorists and passengers have been known to throw articles from passing cars. These are not to be lightly discounted hazards to adjacent homes.

5. The Skyline portion is often affected by fog.

This subject is treated hereafter when the problem of the location of the interstate portion of the freeway south of Daly City is considered. It is of greater importance in that consideration, but certainly should be weighed here as well. The southerly connection to Edgemar will bring traffic to a lower elevation quickly and thus out of the thick fog. The uncertain driver proceeds with extreme caution in the fog on a road designed for high speed, but one more familiar with every bend and turn will have a tendency to travel at a speed in excess of that prudent. Skyline boulevard in a fog simply is not suitable to fast travel.

In short, patterns of community life have been established in the Westlake area. Evidence drawn from all over the United States indicates that freeways have a profound and lasting effect and bring great changes to the areas in which they are located.

To superimpose them on an existing community, affecting esthetic values, human considerations, placing serious obstacles to vital city services, uprooting homes and families, should not be done unless no other alternative exists.

There is an alternative . . . the southerly connection . . . which does none of the damage suggested by the Alemany branch. The Alemany Skyline proposal is emphatically and completely rejected by the city of Daly City, its people, and by residents of adjacent areas. The city has no alternative but to remain firm in this attitude, uncompromising, unchanging and it is confident that the merit of its position will be recognized.

Practical considerations require that the interstate freeway to the south of Daly City remain to the east of Skyline.

The Christen ranch and areas west of Junipero Serra boulevard, south of Daly City, east of Skyline and north of the Rollingwood subdivision in San Bruno are unincorported territory. Consequently the expressions of any adjacent city are of no greater signifiance from the point of view of which city makes them, except that because Daly City will receive this traffic it feels its attitude must be carefully considered.

South San Francisco and Pacifica have both proposed that the interstate freeway remain on Skyline boulevard until practically at the point of contact with the southerly limits of Daly City. This position in the instance of South San Francisco may be motivated by considerations relating to potential annexation, and that city also gives as a reason for such location that any more easterly location will create drainage problems.

This latter argument is specious and without foundation. The freeway will create no greater drainage problem than any city street might do. Moreover, a flood control district has been established by the State Legislature at its last session, with the consent of Daly City and including areas in Daly City, to provide funds. The location of the freeway will in no way affect this problem.

The interest of Pacifica in the location of the interstate freeway closer to its borders has some validity. Its interest rests however, not in any concern so much with the effect of such interstate freeway on its city, as it is interested in having a means of access to this freeway from points farther south of Edgemar.

Daly City rejects the Skyline interstate freeway for the reasons set forth hereafter and urges the most easterly one (shown on plans 1 and 2).

The interstate freeway on Skyline is objectionable for several reasons. It is called an Interstate and Defense Highway System. Therefore military needs must be given firm consideration.

We have already made mention of the problem presented by fog. Skyline boulevard is aptly named. At points below Daly City but north of San Bruno, one can look to the west and see the ocean and then turn around and see the bay. Skyline follows a crest through this area immediately south of Daly City. Very often during summer months one can look from Junipero Serra boulevard in this area toward Skyline, from sunlight to billows of fog flowing over this crest. As the fog spreads, the lower areas, though damp do not have visibility adversely affected as does the crest on Skyline where visibility is actually zero.

Fog such as is known to Skyline and an interstate freeway are simply inconsistent with one another. One is designed with speedy movement of vehicles in mind, the other forces the opposite effect. The lack of vision brought about by the fog is a hazard. Vehicles will tend to stay away from such a freeway when the fog is thick.

In other respects points made earlier under this subject apply here as well. It is also believed that estimates made by this District concerning the cost of construction of the various indicates that the Skyline route is more expensive than any of the more easterly routes.

Daly City therefore opposes the interstate freeway being located on Skyline Boulevard. It believes that weather conditions, cost, military considerations all validly require that the interstate freeway be located to the east of Skyline and that it be brought to Junipero Serra boulevard as soon as possible after skirting San Bruno.

The anti-freeway Skyline freeway attitude:

Earlier in this presentation, the history of almost two years of work by the Daly City Council and its freeway committee has been discussed. This work has been basically a harmonious effort.

It must also be mentioned that the adoption of the basic alignment of the Y-T route was primarily done to accommodate the developer of St. Francis Heights even though his development was at the time almost exclusively on paper.

The City of Daly City now finds that this person has authored two conflicting attitudes both of which are unequivocally and completely rejected by Daly City.

1. The anti-freeway position. This developer first proposed that the City of Daly City reject all freeways through this city.

This position is condemned as unrealistic, inconsistent with the general welfare of the area, and designed to benefit only one person financially—at the actual expense of many.

The Skyline Freeway position. Finding no support for this position, it is now proposed that the interstate freeway be located on Skyline boulevard through Daly City.

All the objections previously made apply.

Moreover, the following questions may be asked:

Shall homes be removed, a community completely disturbed, untold harm result, to accommodate the financial gain of a single man?

Shall one man be granted the power to thwart the common welfare so that he may personally profit thereby?

These two attitudes have a common origin and are ill-conceived. They have been developed only within the last 30 days and proposed since then. They are opposed by the city with all emphasis possible.

The Jefferson Elementary School Board by a divided vote has adopted a resolution opposing all freeways. This action is ultra vires, illegal and void. The School Board has, of course, an interest in the location of a freeway but it has not been given to it by the State of California the prerogative to reject all freeways.

Conclusion—

Briefly the position of Daly City may be summarized as follows:

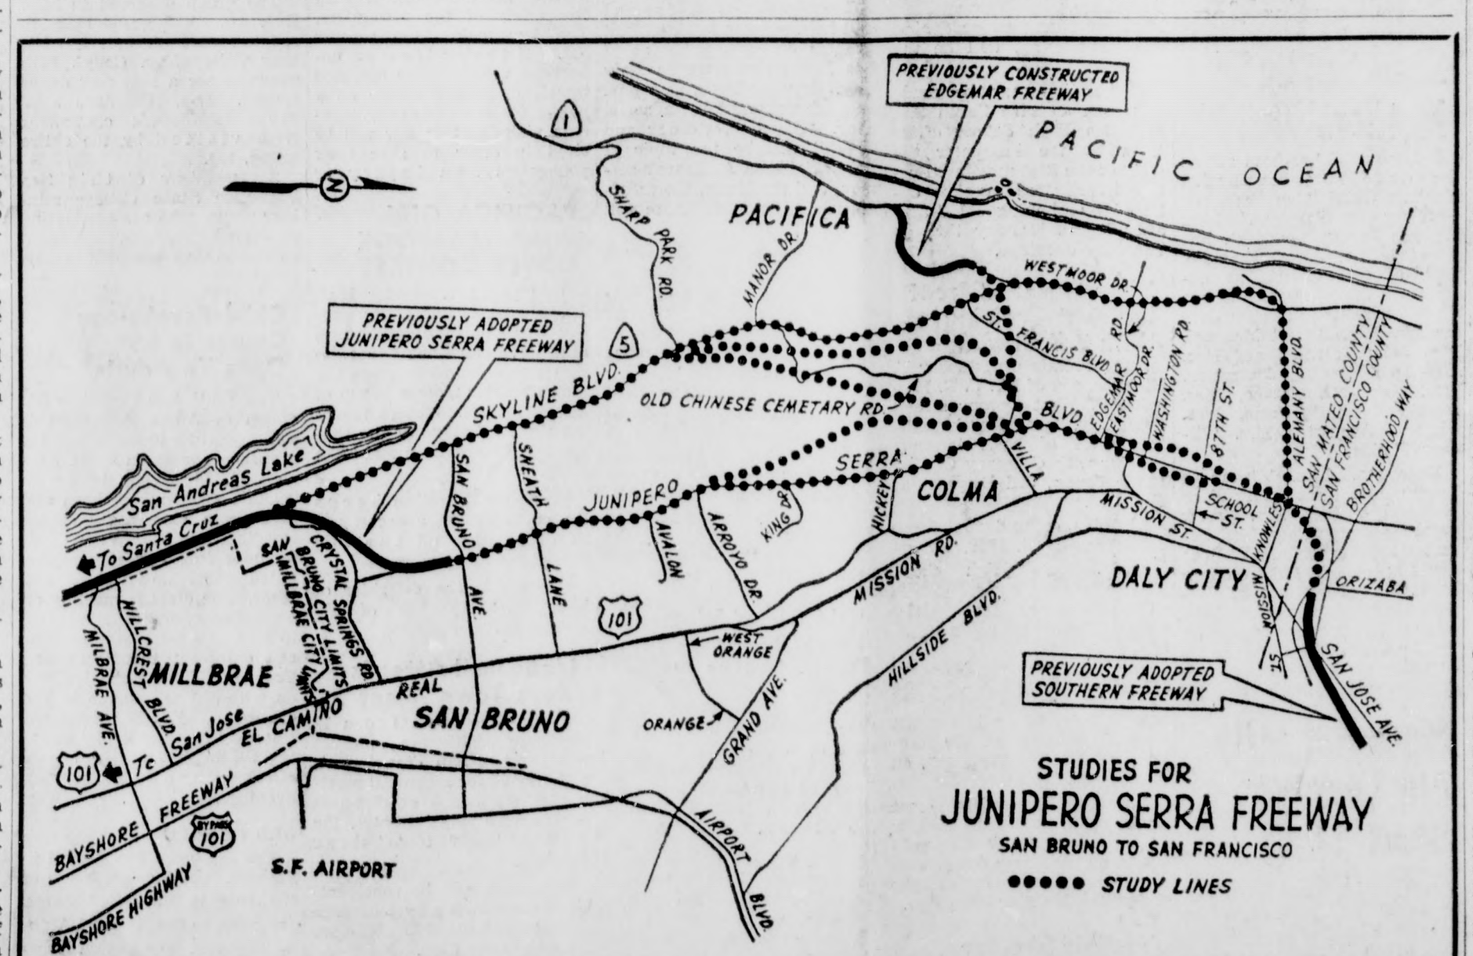

1. The interstate freeway should follow the general configuration of Junipero Serra boulevard as shown on Plan 2, both within and to the south of Daly City.

2. Daly City urges the modification of Plan 2 to provide for a lateral east-west freeway to Edgemar Road along the Y-T line shown in plans prepared by the state and submitted to Daly City..

This must be understood to mean that Daly City is irrevocably committed to an Edgemar connection as its southerly border—avoiding homes and developments.

3. The Skyline-Alemany branch is rejected and the city announces its attitude in this regard as uncompromising for the reasons set forth earlier bearing in mind the harsh effect such would have on an existing developed community together with the great obstacle presented adequate fire service.

Dwyer Reports On Progress For 'Carousel'

With the theme Carousel, the Westlake Festival Committee is hard at work to insure the success of Our Lady of Mercy's major fund-raising event. The festival this year will be held from April 28th through May 1.

At a recent meeting of the festival committee, general chairman Richard Dwyer was greatly impressed by the reports of all committee heads. The joint chairmen for general merchandise, Mrs. Elwin R. Short and Frank Carroll, announced their committee has obtained many interesting and valuable articles to stock the shelves of various booths for the festival. Throughout this meeting, Mrs. William McGourty was busy with her duties as festival secretary.

The program lay-out for the festival and the new parish directory are in the final phase of editing. Mrs. Bernard Albrecht (PL 6-0389) and William Creeggan (PL 6-2484) requested that they be contacted for any changes in the parish directory listings. Also, for new advertising listings, contact them before the directory deadline, which is to be February 4, 1960.

Floor chairman, Mrs. George Bigon, announced that the women of the parish are ready to stock the linen booth with an ample supply of fancy needlework. Busy fingers are in the process of dressing over 800 dolls, to delight the hearts of all little visitors to the doll booth.

Joint floor chairmen, Mrs. George Bigon and Raymond Forcina, announce the addition of a new booth to this year's festival roster. Known as the hat booth, it will appeal to both young and old, featuring hats and caps of many different shapes, types, and colors. As an added feature of this booth, the winner's name will be embroidered free on the brim of the hat.

The next pre-festival event will be the rummage sale, sponsored by the women of the parish. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Cresalia, the sale will be held on March 14 at Larkin Hall in San Francisco.

Proceeds from the festival and from all pre-festival events are to be used in the construction of a much-needed additional school for the children of the parish.

Mariner Girls In First Aid Training Here

Mariner Girl Scouts of Ship 13 of the Daly City-Colma area, are busy as bees working on numerous activities.

On January 12, and for three consecutive Tuesdays, 21 Mariners began a Red Cross first aid course at the Garden Village School, from 7-9:30 p.m. The course is given every two years.

Pacificans Mrs. H. McDonagh and Mrs. G. Vaughn, of the San Mateo Chapter of the American Red Cross, are giving the instructions to the Senior Scouts, a required part of their five-point program. Every session must be attended.

On January 23 and 30, the girls will go for a swimming test at the San Francisco Boys' Club on Page street.

After they pass this test, they will be qualified to take instruction in row boating under the tutelage of Granville Thomas, chairman for small craft instruction under the Water Safety Division of the Red Cross. J. Williams will teach canoeing. This will take place at Lake Merced, every Saturday morning during February and March.

Thirteen Mariners will take row boating, and three canoeing. Only the girls who have first learned the ropes of row boating can take canoeing, as it is more difficult to handle.

A formal "Bridge of Honor Ball" will be held at the Burlingame Recreation Center, on Saturday, February 6. This affair is given by the Peninsula Seascout boys, who invite the Senior Mariner Scouts to be their guests.

Mrs. Margaret Damon is leader of Mariner Ship 13.

TEEN TALK

By Joe Bavaresco

Hi Kids:

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all of the people who helped put on the big benefit show for Carmel Cresi. I'd like to especially thank KIP and Kay Irvine, KIP's producer, for the grand show they presented. It was, I'm happy to say, a big success, with all proceeds going to stricken Carmel. Also a big thanks to Jim Price, ad ticket salesman, and Mrs. Rose Abbate, who handled all the reservations and funds collected. Without all these people the show could not have been the success it was. Most of all a big thank you to everyone who appeared on the show. Now our first letter.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco: My problem is, I am 16 years old and I have had and still have a strong desire to enter the clergy. But my parents think I am foolish. They have forbidden me even to speak of it. I would like to enter at the end of this semester but they will not hear of it. I am tempted to run away and enter. What shall I do?

Prayerfully Yours

Dear Prayerfully: I hope you don't think of me as a villan but rather an understanding outsider, who can see both sides. This is not an uncommon problem. Your parents most would like to see you become a doctor or lawyer and gain material success — which is what most parents want for their children. So don't judge them too harshly. They are only doing what they think is best for you. My advice is finish high school because if God has given you a true calling it will be there when you finish high school just as it is now. Then you've made yourself think it over longer and if you still want to enter go to your pastor and tell him and then enter with a clear mind and a clear heart. If you run away you are displeasing God. Remember the commandment — Honor thy Mother and Father. You would be starting your career on the wrong foot if you ran away. You waited this long, you can wait a little longer. You will be pleasing God by pleasing your parents. How can you lose? God is with you. Good luck prayerfully.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco: I am 15 years old and considered cute by my friends. Many boys ask me out and I have to refuse because my parents will not allow me to go out on dates until I am 16. Since I was only 15 last week, this means I'll have to continue saying "no" to boys for another year. By then I would have said no so often that when I say yes, there won't be anyone to say yes to. Can you help me? What do you think?

2 Young 2 Date

Dear 2 young 2 date: I am the opinion that a girl in her freshman year of high school should date. Simply because she can develop social poise and grace within her own group. Fourteen and 15 year old girls today are much more mature than a 14 year old girl 10 years ago. She must choose her dates carefully, but a freshman girl should be allowed out on dates, not too frequently or she can develop a bad reputation. Twelve and 15 year olds should be allowed two dates a week, provided her parents approve of the date and provided they know where you are going and provided you are in by 11 p.m. All these provisions are fair to both the kids and the parents. So Miss 2 young 2 date perhaps if you show this article to your parents it will help. If they still insist you wait by all means obey them. As long as there are boys there will always be someone to ask you out. Don't make a false tale why you can't go out with them; simply tell them the truth. Invite your friends to your home, and maybe if your parents meet them they will change their minds about the situation.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco: I have been reading a lot about you and I understand you used to be in show business. Is this true? I am considered a good singer but I don't know how to go about getting started. Do you have any advice for a stage struck singer.

Stage Struck (G.C.)

Dear G. C: You are correct, I was in show business for all my teenage years and I loved it. It paid my way through college. My advice to you is sing a lot. Especially if your school rallies or assemblies. Do as many shows as you can to gain experience. The one name that comes to mind is Bill McKavanaugh who handles "Search for Stars" at the Moose Club on O'Farrell street in San Francisco. This man has done more for kids than any man or woman in Northern California. He is fair in all ways. He will help you and give you any hints you wish. There are many people who put on Camp shows and other shows all over this area. Beware — some will take your money and some will collect money for shows and the poor kids that entertain on these shows never see that money, so be careful who you do shows with. You can always check by calling the musicians union or AGVA, American Guild of Variety Artist, to check in these groups. These "Ham Outfits" will try to take over things to make them look good and take advantage of your talent. By the way the Moose Club and Bill are having their Grand Finals on the 5th of February at Commerce High Auditorium or Nourse Auditorium on Hayes near Van Ness. Teenagers from California will be participating. Give Bill a call and it will be a step in the right direction. Good luck to you and your future.

Thought for the week: "The fastest way for news to travel is to begin a statement with don't breathe this to a soul, but——." Think about it and I'll see you next week. TRUSTEES OK NEW POLICY ON 'SITTERS'

Jefferson High School District trustees Monday night adopted five district policies, the most important affecting "sitters" who may be expelled from school after all other measures have been exhausted.

The policy affecting "sitters" is one to further educational processes by disciplining students who refuse to study. The most important section of the policy reads "each pupil shall be diligent in study." This will affect those who are not.

Adoption was passed quickly and unanimously and the district attorney confirmed that there is nothing illegal in the policy.

Copies of the notice will be printed, sent to parents, and are to be signed by parents and returned to the high schools. District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson praised the policy as being a commendable one.

A lost-and-found policy, covering notification of found articles and retention of them for a year was also adopted. If not claimed within a year, the articles kept by the principal of each school in their respective safes will be turned over to the Salvation Army or Goodwill Industries.

The third policy makes summer school rules more stringent and states that "summer school is an opportunity, not a requirement."

Transfer and credit policies allow incoming students to graduate to class levels without taking subjects required by the local district which are not specified as such by the previous district attended.

The final policy accepted was the textbook use and adoption policy which specifies classification of books, procedure in the evaluation, and selection of books.

INDIA WOMAN GUEST SPEAKER AT WESTMOOR

Social customs, education, and advances made in India were among the topics discussed by Paul Zimmerman's third period World History class at Westmoor High School. The guest speaker was Miss Murgesh D. Shroff, an English teacher from India.

Miss Shroff explained the caste system and how it affects the people of her country. In the field of educaion the main difference between India and the United States was that the American learned a vast quantity of material fairly well, while the Indians were taught fewer subjects, but in greater detail.

Memorial Gifts Aid County's Heart Study

"Memorial gifts received during December in the names of three Daly City people—William Berman, Albert Brush and Ray Simmons—will be used in gaining new knowledge about the diseases of the heart and will help in furthering the research programs of the San Mateo County Heeart Association," Dr. Lec S. Bell, president of the association, said today.

According to Dr. Bell, 75 people from over the county were remembered by 255 gifts.

Among the names remembered include: Henry Petersen of Pacifica and South San Francisco's Paul Charles Kondla, George McDougall, John C. Moraes, Paul Schellhammer, Jesse Woodman, Fannie F. Weiner and William F. Hesselein.

JEFFERSON High School's basketball team is minus one member due to the departure of Art Banos. Banos, who had been playing quite a bit, resigned from the team in order to practice with weights to get in shape for his collegiate football ambitions. Besides these two sports the senior also performs on the track squad for varsity Coach Bob Watt.

OVERTIME FOR B'S

MOLOSSI'S 24 ACCOUNTS FOR FIRST VICTORY

Gary (Buckets) Molossi did almost everything possible on a basketball court while leading the Jeff High Indians to a 37-36 paper-thin win over Hillsdale last Wednesday.

Molossi did more than his share, collecting 24 of the 37 points scored by Mike Orlich's five. His jump shots from the key kept the Indians within a point or so of the Knights right until the last 34 seconds when J. B. Berry arched a short jump shot for the go-ahead point.

Jeff had a 4-point lead early in the fourth quarter. Midway through the period, Hillsdale edged to a 3-point lead. The Knights started the stalling process with four minutes remaining. Hank Moritz' drive-in shot put the Knights ahead 36-33, but not for long as Molossi reached the edge of the key and took his favorite jump shot.

The Knights tried to contain their one-point lead by stalling but the Hillsdale outside ball-handler stepped back over the center line giving Jeff the ball out of bounds. Berry made the clincher though it didn't appear that way at the time.

Bill Price, Hillsdale forward, tried a 20-footer but the ball skittered off the rim and the Jeff varsity took home win No. 1 Berry had 7 points while Moritz potted 12 for the invaders. "Buckets" Molossi hit on 10 of 19 tries from the field.

In addition to his shooting, Molossi rebounded well, stole the ball a number of times, and dispersed the Knights' attempts at pressing by driving through the forecourt defenders. Jeff made 35 per cent of their field goal attempts, 16 of 44. Big men, Gary Bonini, Hiram Sibley and Jack Horn paced Jeff's rebounding edge, 30-24 over the Knights.

Not to be outdone for exciting play, the lightweights had to play a three-minute overtime before picking up their second consecutive league win.

Bobby (Slick) With meshed the decider for the 34-32 finale. Ralph Coloiaro slipped while under the bucket and a Hillsdale Knight could have emerged as the slayer of the little dragons.

His shot rolled about the rim and dropped out. The two-pointer would have given the Knights a tie. With's passing was outstanding, as well as his holding down high-point honors with 12. He received a great deal of help from Sonny Stoller who connected for 9 points.

The foul shooting of these two lads in the first half, 6 of 8, kept Jeff ahead, 14 - 12. Georgie Claus played an excellent floor game for the victors while Pete Bentley's 9 markers led the losers.

'Mr. Cool' Leads Mustangs Past Indian Cagers

Mr. Cool chipped off 24 points to take the basketball game out of the deep-freeze and pace Capuchino to a 53-40 varsity win last Friday at the Jefferson gym.

Neil Calhoon, a ballplayer who would make Perry Como look like a nervous wreck, hit on 8 of 19 field goal tries and 8 of 10 charity tosses to dip in for the 24 markers.

In addition, Mr. Cool held Gary Molossi to his lowest point spread of the young season, 11 points. Molossi could not be faulted here, however, as his passing was excellent. He aided Jack Horn in scoring 13 points by passing off three times on the fast-breaking tip off play.

With Randy Rothman, Roger Dabney and other front line stalwarts completely dominating the rebounding department, Jeff fell behind at 4-2 only 1:50 into the game and trailed the rest of the night. Half time score was 26-21.

A combination of tight defense on the part of Cap and loose offense on Jeff's side, caused the ball to be tossed away, forced travelling calls, and almost every other means of the Indians losing the ball. Outside of Molossi the Jeff guards were lucky to get the ball across mid court.

"Buckets" Molossi pushed through 6 of 12 field goal attempts for a torrid 50 per cent. The Indians cold, cold shooting was 15 of 52, many of these being under the boards. Meanwhile, the Mustangs salted away 19 of 47.

Jeff Coach Mike Orlich looked angry enough to bite sets of basketball trunks while his team members were still in them. "We had the good shots right under the bucket and couldn't make them, what more can you ask" he questioned.

The Indian lightweights gave a good performance, though losing their first contest, 48-40. The Mustangs, paced by Don Dougan's 20 markers and Dave Ketta's 11, pulled away just before intermission time at 20-19. They were so hot from outside that they went stretches of 5 and 6 long shots with all dropping through.

They could have met Jeff's varsity, or their own for that matter, and come away victors. Bobby (Slick) With had another good night, pocketing 12 points and raising onlookers eyebrows. Ralph Coloiaro showed the scoring potential that could greatly aid Rick Warne's five. Coloiaro pumped for 13 points, mostly on long jump shots.

It was the third consecutive win for the Cap B's and the first loss for the Tribe.

ALL BUT ONE IN 15-14 TILT

Randy Storbo Scores Almost All 15 Points As Hawks Win

The Department of Parks and Recreation's 1960 Boys Basketball Leagues have begun to take form. The second week of play has left only seven teams in the four leagues undefeated.

In the 5th Grade League, the Our Lady of Mercy Dons took over sole possession of first place by beating the Tigers 20-6. The Dons, whose record is 2-0, were paced by Dan Alberti, who scored 7 points. The Broadmoor Youth Association Hawks won their first game in two outings, squeaking by the OLPH Aces 15-14.

The Hawks, coached by Larry Storbo, were led by his son, Randy, who scored 14 of the total 15. Reed Rosenberg scored the other point for the Hawks. Oddly enough, the Aces were also led by the coach's son, Mike Chelone, who scored 8 points. The PAL Beavers won their first game by lacing the Huskies 24-3. Keith Stoller took high point honors for the Beavers with 8 points.

The 6th Grade League finds the Our Lady of Mercy Gaels leading the pack with a 2-0 record. The Gaels, led by Clifford's' 14 points, came from an 11-7 half-time deficit to beat the OLPH Broncos 25 to 13. The PAL, who drew a bye the first week of play, also came from behind to shellack the Broadmoor Youth Association Celtics 28-17. Bill Hernan took high point honors for PAL with 11 points.

The Our Lady of Mercy A team and Ben Franklin are tied for the lead in the 7th Grade League. The two teams will square-off at the War Memorial Community Center at 1:30 p.m. this Saturday. Both clubs have identical 2-0 records.

The A's of Our Lady of Mercy, led by the hot shooting of Ken Torre, swamped the OLPH Saints 51-9. Torre led the scorers of all leagues with 23 points. Ben Franklin, strong in the first and third quarters, coasted to a 32-22 win over PAL. The winners were paced by Pardner's 10 points.

The 8th Grade League is led by Our Lady of Mercy. They defeated Ben Franklin 34-24 with a 12-point fourth quarter splurge. The PAL had no trouble beating Temple Judea. Keith Callaghan and Steve Willis scored 20 and 19 points respectively in the 79 to 4 rout.

San Pedro Sets Baseball Camp

San Pedro Lunch proprietor Gus Sebastiani and Coach George Benson today announced that spring tryouts for the firm's midget and junior baseball teams will be held this Saturday, January 23, starting at 1:30 p.m. at Daly City's Marchbanks Park.

Benson said all boys ages 9 to 13 (and those who will not be 14 by March 1) are eligible for team berths.

Rams-Indians Vie

Westmoor's Rams will try to bury their horns into the Jeff High Indians this Friday at the Jefferson court with the preliminary lightweight basketball game beginning at 7:30 p.m.

In order to win, the Rams will have to contain Gary Molessi, currently leading the Peninsula League in scoring, as well as Jack Horn, a solidly built tall man who can pump points.

If the Hilltoppers can contain these two they can walk off with a victory. On the other hand, Jeff will have to keep all of the Rams within confines. All five of the Westmoor starters have hit double figures at least once, and that includes only three games played.

The Indians could win it by forcing Coach Tony Giammona's crew to play a slower style of ball as Hillsdale did. However, this is highly improbable as both Jeff and Westmoor are run'n shoot clubs.

Westmoor, even though they have never beaten a Mike Orlich coached varsity in loop play, are five point favorites. The Rams were 2-1 and Indians 1-2, discounting Wednesday's tilts.

Jeff High's potent lightweights are 15 point favorites over a Westmoor B team that has yet to win a league game and took but one practice tilt.

The Indian little men have a 2-1 league mark, losing only to powerful Capuchino.

LAST WEEK'S CAGE RESULTS SHOW POTENCY

Results of other league games, outside of Westmoor and Jefferson, last week found the Capuchino lightweights and varsity scoring 118 points against South San Francisco and Mills losing their second consecutive league tilt by two points.

Capuchino's varsity belted South City 54-22 while the lightweights soared to a 64-18 win. Neil Calhoon had 11 markers for the Cap varsity while Ray Ming tallied 12 for the Warriors. Eleven players scored for the Mustang lightweights, nine of which had more than two points.

San Mateo was extended to a double overtime by Mills before Dave Balsley took Gayton Milia's feed and dropped in the "final death" basket. Howard Sundberg, before fouling out, pushed 11 points through the nets for Mills, losers by 37-35. The Mills B squad easily stopped the Bearcats, 28-15.

Friday night, San Mateo won their third consecutive game by racing past South City, 48-30, while Mills edged Burlingame, 37-35, though a protest was filed by the Panthers' Coach Rube Beltran.

Balsley's 18 and Bob Little's 10 points paced San Mateo while Ming was again high for the Warriors with 14. Sundberg also led Mills for the second time with 10 points while Squire collected 14 for the Panthers.

Mills and San Mateo's lightweights also won, by scores of 35-32 and 29-23, respectively.

SETTIN' THEM UP AT WESTLAKE: Jim Grealish, manager of Westlake Bowl, notes that it is probably quicker for a pin setter to put up the pins than an automatic machine. Are you listening, Nikita? However, he added, the machines don't go home when they get tired. Okay, Krushchev, the auomatic age is here to stay.

ETAOIN SHRDLU: When a printer makes a mistake he types out the letters etaoin shrdlu on the rest of the metal and then throws it away. Sometimes, inadvertently, a slip is made and the words appear in the paper, much to the befuddlement of the reader. Anyway, one Peninsula paper lists Barry Krohn as being a "stocky 790 pounds." Clear the court men, here comes Krohn. It should have read 190. May all your etaoin shrdlu's be little ones, and not capital letters!

THEY LOOK ALIKE: A good double for Jimmy Boyd, who made hit records with Frankie Laine in the past, is South San Francisco's pin point shooting guard, Kray Hensley. Also noticeable is the likeness of teen-age singing sensation Bobby Darin and Jeff High's excellent ball handler Bobby With.

PUTTING OUT BRUSH FIRES: Captain Allen Brush, of the Daly City fire department, was a ringsider at one of the Jeff basketball games. Not in an official capacity though. He was out to see his son, Bob Brush, a member of Rick Warne's lightweights. He, of course, wasn't the only dad there, but we're sure the boys play better when kinfolk are around.

DC HAS PROLIFIC SCORERS: Four games were played the opening day of the Peninsula League. Westmoor's Clark Beerman had the highest point total of any individual on the eight teams participating, 19 big ones. The following week Jefferson's Gary Molossi did likewise. He splurged for 24.

Rams Best Burlingame
